

Guess who's driving your neighbours nuts?

---

Feeding squirrels is bad for them and bad for your whole neighbourhood. Squirrels purposely fed by humans are more likely to:

- Bury nuts in flower beds and pots, damaging plant roots.
- Build nests in attics and walls, causing damage to roofing and electrical wires.
- Enter yards and homes, risking being attacked by cats and dogs.

Feeding causes artificially high squirrel populations, which are more susceptible to disease epidemics. The food provided often causes malnutrition and health problems.

For your good and for theirs, please do not feed squirrels!
